

Art and Transformation: Prison Stories

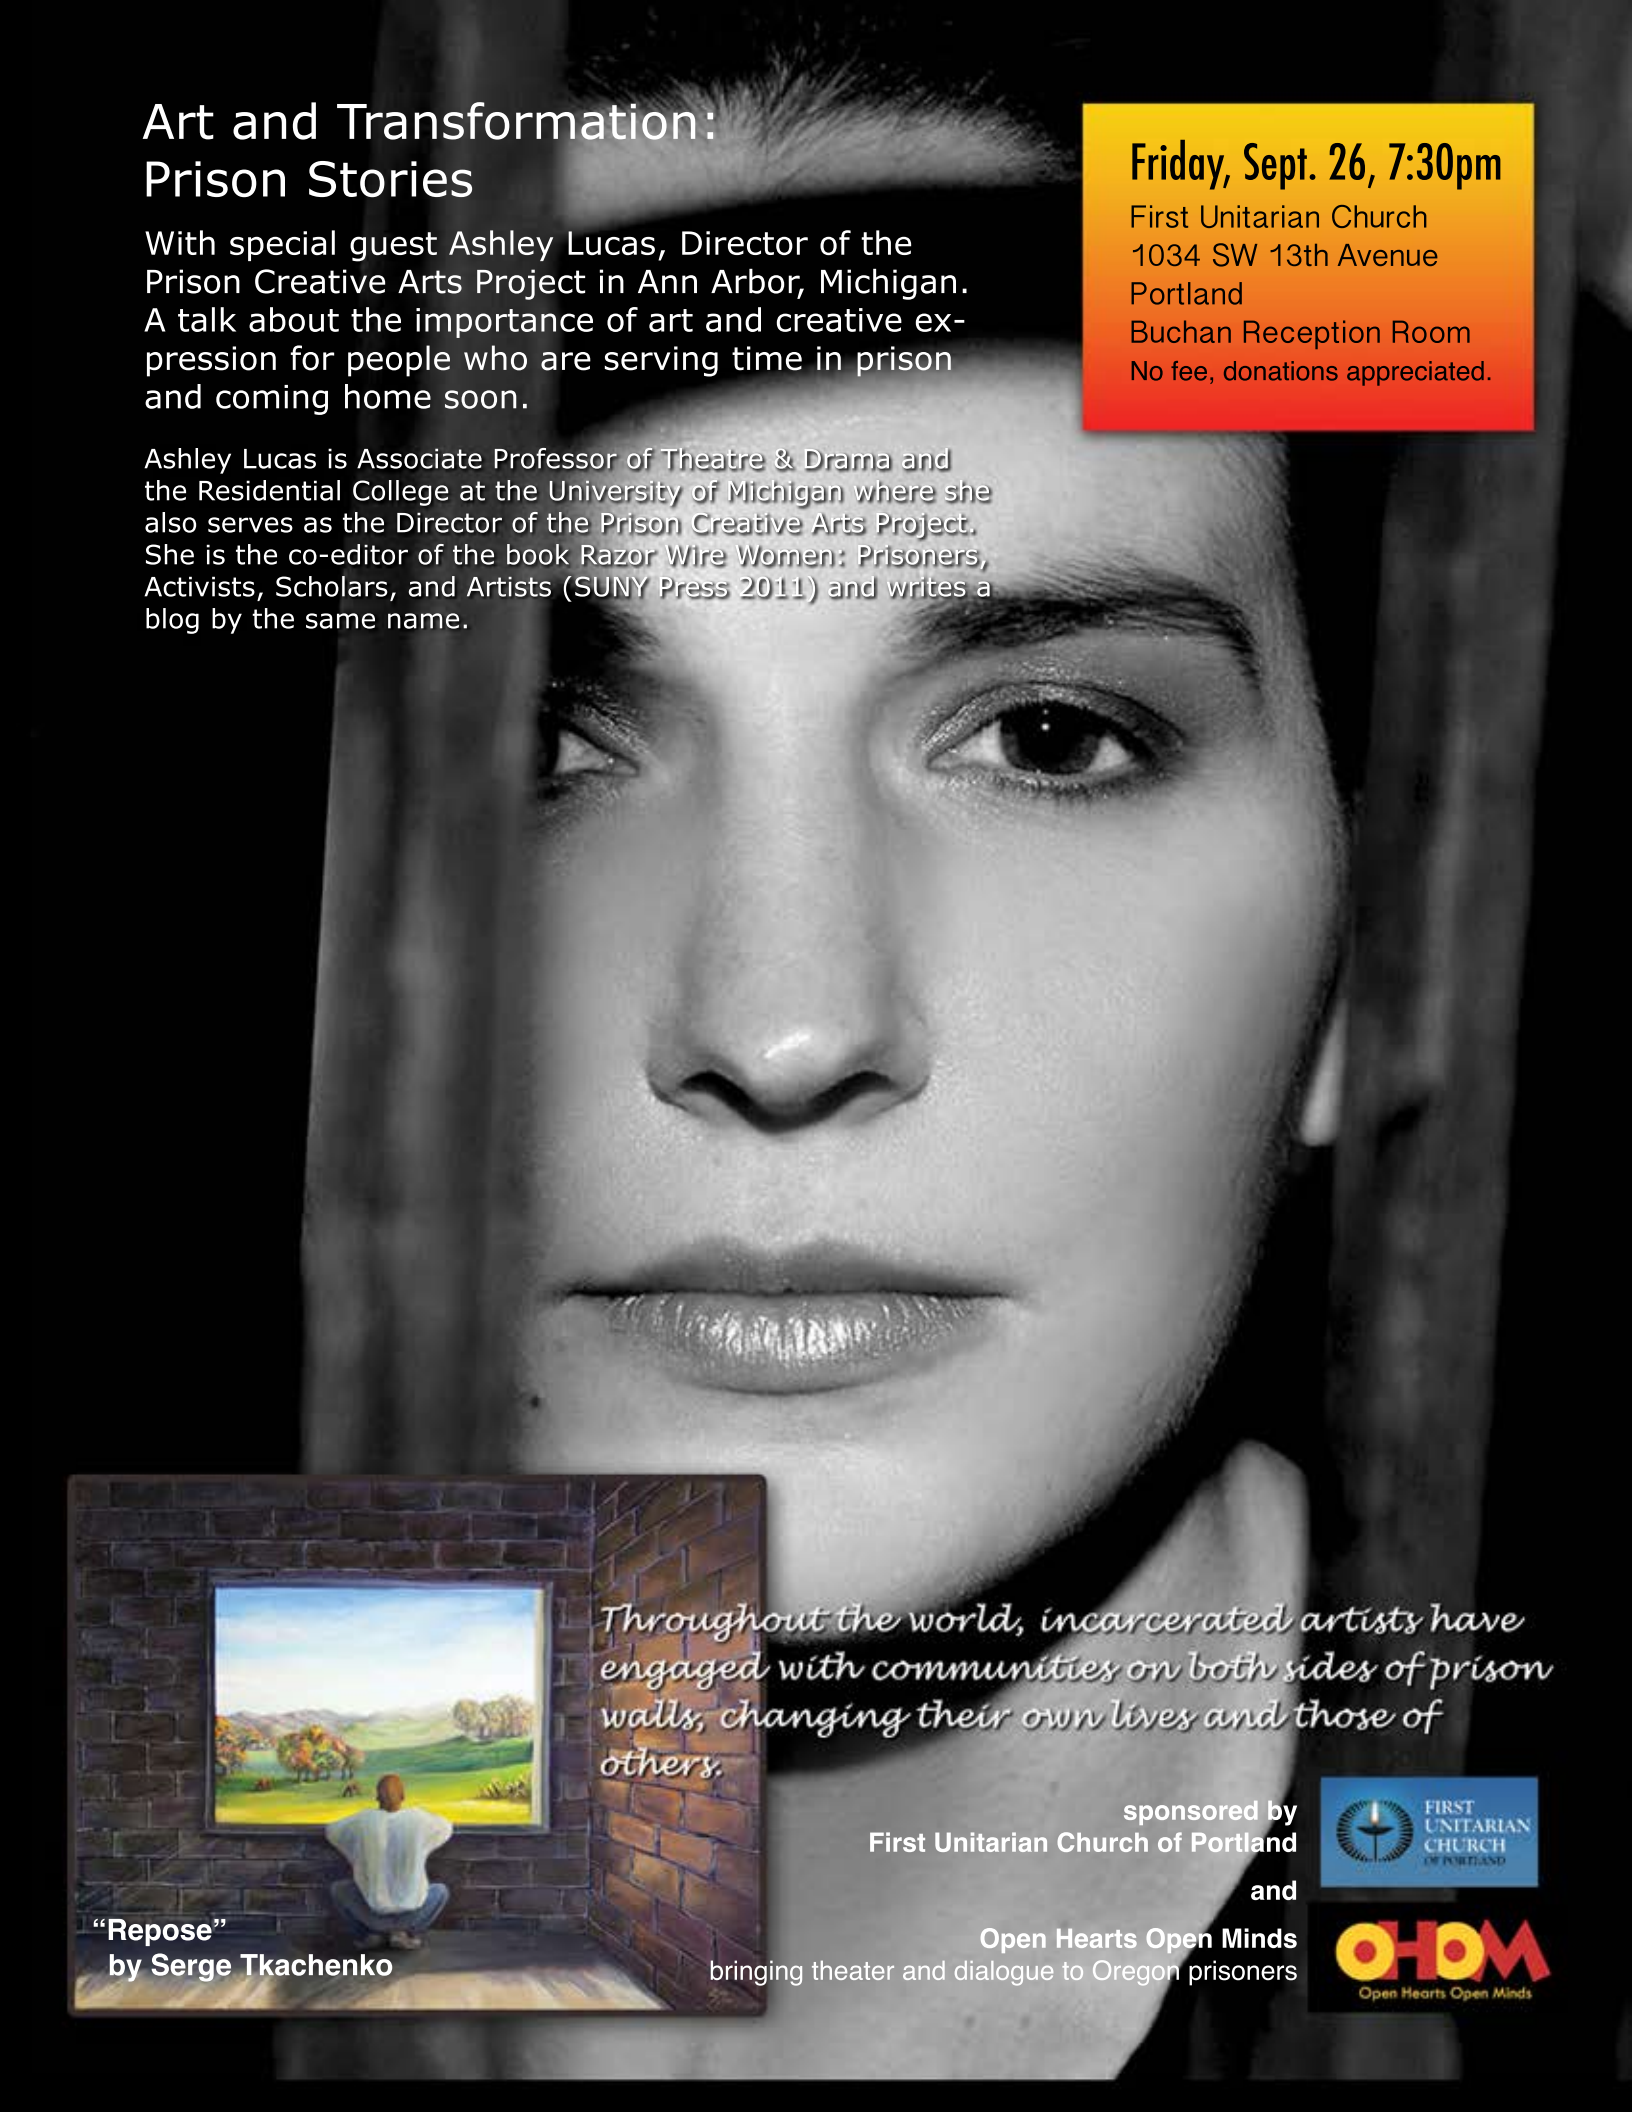

With special guest Ashley Lucas, Director of the Prison Creative Arts Project in Ann Arbor, Michigan. A talk about the importance of art and creative expression for people who are serving time in prison and coming home soon.

Ashley Lucas is Associate Professor of Theatre & Drama and the Residential College at the University of Michigan where she also serves as the Director of the Prison Creative Arts Project. She is the co-editor of the book Razor Wire Women: Prisoners, Activists, Scholars, and Artists (SUNY Press 2011) and writes a blog by the same name.

Friday, Sept. 26, 7:30pm

First Unitarian Church
1034 SW 13th Avenue
Portland

Buchan Reception Room
No fee, donations appreciated.

Throughout the world, incarcerated artists have engaged with communities on both sides of prison walls, changing their own lives and those of others.

sponsored by
First Unitarian Church of Portland and

Open Hearts Open Minds

bringing theater and dialogue to Oregon prisoners

“Repose”
by Serge Tkachenko